Management Responsibility

The Board may delegate some of its responsibilities to its committee and/or a director or any other person of authority to perform any of its functions and exercise any of its powers. Ultimate responsibility for the management and control of the Company is vested in the directors, who may then delegate their power to management. A review of the Company's Constitution has been undertaken and a resolution is being put to the shareholders to amend outdated clauses. Approval is being sought to increase the maximum directors to 10. The table below summarises the current composition of the Board and the term in office held by each director at the date of this report. Conflict of Interest

Directors are required to disclose private or other business interests and any other matters, which may lead to potential or actual conflict of interest to the Board. At each Board meeting each director is required to disclose any conflict. Any standing conflict is registered in the conflicts register.

Any director who has a material personal interest in a matter being considered by the Board must not be present when the matter is being considered and may not vote on the matter. A 'material' interest would depend on the individual matter being considered, and whether it would be deemed to be material.

All directors have access to any employees, company advisers, records and information they may require assisting in carrying out their duties. The Board also receives monthly financial and operational reports from executive management.
